LESSON DESCRIPTION

Introduce students with banknotes and coins of the local currency.

Link this topic with numeracy skill of adding and subtracting up to 100.

After learning about banknotes and coins, students can count, sort, sum and subtract them in a game of commerce.

Everyone loves to buy what he/she likes. Download the shopping card cards I play with my students below. You can print individual cards several times (and plasticize them for durability). Distribute group cards to students and invite them to purchase. After purchasing the items from the list, ask them to calculate how much money they will spend at the box office.
